A VERY MODEST JOB.

The bill to bestow upon the Oregonian Railway Company the property of the city of Purtland has not yet been printed. But we learn from good authority that the statement stantially correct. That is to say, the bill proposes to give the company the entire pub-lic levee, in luding the whole water front and the right to establish a dock down to the down Front street through its whole length, and the right to occupy and use every stre dock purposes. A strong effort will be made to put this extremely modest bill through. duce a considerable class of people to vote A company which desires to maintain an honorable repord ought to be ashamed of the conception of a piece of jobbery, or rebbery, like this. It would be difficult to say why this railway, company should have privileges which have been granted to no other company, or why it should not buy property for its uses, as other companies have a. Fair play for all and no special privliege to any is the correct policy. Let those who want valuable property for their own use and prof t, buy it. This is a proposition which will justly apply to every corporation out from the river and have no mesus of city shall be cut off from all public ap-proaches to a river in front of them; And never before was it beard of that a great and valuable property, with the right of public
